

Sacred Truths: Atlanta's Black Queer Voices Our stories can change the epidemic

Sacred Truths: Atlanta's Black Queer Voices

is a new initiative at Emory University that is interested in hearing from Black gay men. We value your stories and experiences regarding spiritual practices and communities as a resource for HIV prevention and support.

We'll be holding workshops in March and April to hear your perspectives.

Participants will be compensated.

If you're interested in attending a workshop, you must complete an interest form at
